Catch on the cards

CHASE rewards with your credit card and you could be almost $100 a year worse off, according to new research.

Online comparison service Mozo yesterday launched a "Rewards Revealer" tool. It said that when it compared 76 cards using the average $14,000 annual spend only the American Express Blue Sky card and the Myer Visa card offered rewards greater than $100 in annual net value.

The worst, based on Mozo's analysis, was the NAB Gold card. It left users $90 in the red after fees.
